Personal Profile:

I have strong communication skills and love working in a team.

Good teamwork is often essential in ensuring tasks are completed in a timely manner while maintaining a high quality of work.

A structured and organized workspace is important to me in order to fulfill my work fast and efficiently.

I love learning new things, for example I've taught myself C# and basic web development which I use to create simple programs in my free time.

Gaming has been a big passion in my life and I always keep up with the current gaming scene and events. My most played games are Destiny 1, Destiny 2 and Warframe.
